Subject: Putting Your Affairs in Order So Others Don't Have To

Traverse City – Everyone has a bucket list of things they want to do before they leave this earth. The daring may wish to skydive or race on the Indianapolis 500 track; the adventurers may fancy a visit to the Aeolian Islands in Italy or Namje, Nepal. Yet, what are those things you really should do before you die? They may not be as much fun, but being prepared well in advance will bring peace of mind and provide guidance to the family members and friends you leave behind.

For a workshop on putting your affairs in order, join Kimberly Morse from Golden Intentions, Inc., on Tuesday, November 7, 3 p.m., at the Traverse City Senior Center, 801 E. Front Street. Golden Intentions, Inc. is a non-profit community education and support service, which encourages end-of-life preparation.

The workshop includes completing a small workbook, which has many of the most important items that will be needed in the case of either an expected or unexpected death. During a time of emotional upheaval, it is hard to find the answers to all the important questions that may arise – unless you are prepared. You are encouraged to bring family members or anyone else, who may be interested in learning more.

The cost of the workshop is $20 per person and advanced registration is required.
